1. On 8 October 1953, the entire area of Mahlwinkel airfield was not restricted. Some small temporary buildings at the field were vacant.
2. On 3 and 5 November, the airfield was unoccupied and guarded only by two civilians. The landing field was not serviceable in its present condition.<sup>1</sup>

1. Comment. Since the beginning of construction work, the landing field has never been in a satisfactory status apparently because the soil has not the required firmness. Even rolling activity performed in June 1953 has not had the required result.
